Figure 1.

Figure 1. shows which pages and actions each role can access in the Backstage inventory system. Since each role has different permissions, some features may only be available to Admins, Inventory Managers, Sales Staff, or Drivers. If you run into an error screen or cannot open a certain page, it might just mean that your role does not have access to that feature. Before reporting it as an issue, please check Figure 1. to see if that page or action is available for your role. For questions about access or permissions, contact one of the Admins. For bugs, broken pages, or programming issues, reach out to the listed tech team members.
